What's New in the DiskBoss?

DiskBoss is a free, effective tool for computer disk management that includes disk space analysis, duplicate file removal, file classification and disk labeling. Using DiskBoss, you can efficiently identify and automatically remove duplicates, manage folders, manage disk space utilization, search for Hash signatures, analyze files, and create reports. Key Features: - Automated, safe and effective duplicate file removal - Build a report of your computer disk space utilization and find duplicate files - Search for file signatures and create a report for the used Hash algorithms - Categorize and classify files by extension, creation date, modification date, file type and user name - Automatically manage and track changes on your disk drives - Search for duplicated files and safely remove them - Create a disk-change monitoring application that identifies all the modifications in real-time - Supports all versions of Windows XP, Vista, 7, 8, 8.1, and 10 50.00 Description: DiskBoss is an automated and effective data management solution worth having when you need to analyze disk space utilization, classify and organize files according to your whims, migrate data, wipe specific files and search for Hash signatures. Select partitions to scan and view info When you launch the application for the first time, it will display all of the available partitions along with basic details such as status, file system type, as well as the total and used space. The right-click menu enables you to search for specific files, analyze the entire disk space, find duplicates, remove them and set a new disk label. What's more, DiskBoss provides you with the ability of browsing files and directories sorted by the used disk space, filter all the analysis results by category, file size and user name, and identify disk space usage hotspots. Manage detected items and generate reports The 'Classify and Categorize' option, available in the Command menu, enables you to organize disks, directories and shared folders effortlessly. By pressing the Classify button, the program will automatically scan the entire disk and display the space used by different files, then categorize them by extension, creation or modification date. Also, after scanning a specific partition for duplicate files, you are able to easily delete them or simply replace those files with links to originals. Additionally, you are able to generate charts and view the amount of wasted disk space and the total number of duplicate files by extension, size, user name etc. After that, you can save the list to HTML, XML, TXT, XLS or CSV format. Another important function of DiskBoss is the built-in disk change monitor that detects all the modifications and deletions in real-time. It allows you to categorize and filter the detected file system changes by file type or extension, depending on your preferences. On an ending note To conclude,
